

UKSCA call for scientific/applied case abstracts, oral presentations and conference grants

APPLICATION FORM

Unfortunately, due to the lockdown, the UKSCA's 2020 Annual Conference has been cancelled.

However, students, researchers and UKSCA's wider membership will still have the opportunity to share their work this year through the UKSCA Poster Week – running from 31 August to 4 September 2020, which we hope will bring an even wider audience to their work.

The UKSCA are now accepting submissions for original research and applied case study abstracts. We strongly encourage all members, students, early career researchers and established academics to submit an abstract to either the (a) original research, or (b) applied case study categories, which they feel will add value and be of interest to the UK and international strength and conditioning community. We are confident that this will build upon the growing success of previous years, showcasing the outstanding work of our members.

This year the format for presenting work will be expanded beyond poster presentations to include oral presentations. The oral presentation format will be a 10 minute presentation of the research or case study, opening up the opportunity for online discussions. These sessions will take place during 'Poster Week'.

PART 1 – ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

PART 1 – UKSCA'S 2020 – ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

One person may be the primary author on a maximum of two abstracts. The closing date for abstract submissions is 31 July 2020. If submitting more than one abstract, please send each on a separate form.

Abstracts are considered from all scientific and research fields, in addition to any practical applied case study examples from the field of coaching and sports performance.

Those who submit abstracts will be notified regarding acceptance/rejection soon after the panel meeting on 3 August 2020.

Abstracts accepted will be informed of appropriate formatting requirements. For questions concerning any aspects of abstract submission, please email grants@uksca.org.uk
